Children discover their ancestors

SCHOOLCHILDREN from Leigh have been learning about their ancestors who died in the First World War.

Youngsters from West Leigh Infant School are using a £10,000 Heritage Lottery Fund grant to dig into their families' pasts.

Their investigations last week took them to Leigh Cemetery.

ON THE RUN RAPIST JAILED

RAPE: Adrian Horwat

A MAN has been jailed for seven years after being convicted of rape and then jumping his bail.

Adrian Horwat, 21, of no fixed address, absconded from Southend Crown Court on March 14 after being convicted of the rape while he was awaiting verdicts on other matters.

His disappearance sparked a countywide manhunt by Essex Police.

He was recaptured on April 3 and remanded in prison until he was sentenced last week.

He was sent to prison for the rape of an underage girl in a car park in Baxter Avenue, Southend, on April 26, 2014.

The court heard that probation workers who assessed Horwat concluded he blamed his victim and "minimised the extent of his offending".

Pupils back in the swim

School pool revamp complete as house builder matches PTA cash collection

By Pat Higgins

southend@yellowad.co.uk

PRIMARY school pupils can once again take a dip in their swimming pool this summer, thanks to a £5,000 donation from a building firm to help renovate it.

Youngsters at Great Wakering Primary School were disappointed when they learnt their pool was so badly in need of repair they could not take a dip and had to use a public pool for lessons.

However, when Taylor Wimpey East London, which is building homes in the area, heard about the problem it stepped in with the cash, matching the £5,000 collected by the school's PTA to fund the renovation.

Headteacher Hayley O'Dea said: "It's great to have the pool open again.

"The swimming pool required a lot of improvement, including new lining on the inside, replacing tiling and coping around the pool, and a new pool cover plus the cost of emptying and refilling it again, as well as general repairs and renovations within the pool compound.

"The pupils were really disappointed when they thought the pool wouldn't be opening, so they are really happy now.

"Taylor Wimpey offered to help after a parent appealed to the house builder for support.

"The company was really quick to get back to us and we're so thrilled to receive its support – a large project that would have taken us a long time has happened a lot quicker."

Michael O'Leary, sales and marketing director for Taylor Wimpey East London, said: "We feel it's extremely important to support the communities in which we build our new homes, and what better cause than to invest in local schools and help improve facilities for pupils."

Witness could help police in gun attack probe

APPEAL: A CCTV image of a man seen in the Southchurch Road area at the time of a shooting in Southend

DETECTIVES investigating a shooting in Southend have released a CCTV image of a potential witness who may have vital information.

A 23-year-old man from London was found in Southchurch Road in April with a shotgun wound to the stomach at 12.45am on April 18.

He is believed to have been attacked near the Malvern Flats.

Two men – a 19-year-old from Southend and an 18-year-old from Leigh-on-Sea – were arrested on suspicion of attempted murder and are currently on bail until August 11, pending further enquiries.

Detective Constable Tara Shepherd, said: "We have already made a number of arrests in connection with this shocking incident, which we believe to be a targeted attack.

"We are continuing to progress with our enquiries and are keen to speak to the man pictured who was in the area at the time and may have vital information that could assist with our investigation.

"I would appeal for him or anyone else who has any information to please get in touch with us."

Witnesses can call DC Shepherd on 101, or contact Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555111 or via www.crimestoppers-uk.org.

Rapist

A police spokesman said: "They concluded that this offence against a child stranger demonstrated reckless behaviour and a predatory lifestyle, and put him at risk of reoffending."

He was slapped with a seven-year prison term and ordered to sign the Sex Offenders' Register for life.

The court also imposed a restraining order to protect his victim and sentenced him to a consecutive eight weeks' jail for the bail breach.

Two people remain on police bail on suspicion of breaching the anonymity of a rape victim under section five of the Sexual Offences (Amendment) Act 1992, following actions carried out after police issued a wanted person appeal for Horwat.

An 18-year-old man from Westcliff and a 21-year-old woman from Southend are bailed until August 16.

Bright young things

PUPILS have been working on a giant mosaic which will welcome them from now on every morning when they come into school.

All the youngsters at Sacred Heart Catholic Primary School and nursery in Southend have played a part in designing the mural, and helped put it together.

They have been working with Paul Siggins, an artist from the Mosaic Studio.

"It has been a lovely experience helping the pupils flesh out their ideas on the design," said Paul. "Seeing it come together and then to watch the pupils - from the very youngest to Year 6 - all take it in turns to do their bit has been great."

"It is wonderful to think this piece of art will be here for generations to come - to admire and enjoy," he added.

The mosaic is a strikingly colourful piece of art and features subtle religious undertones. It measures 5.6m by 1.6m, and is due to be installed today (Friday July 8).

HISTORY DETECTIVES: West Leigh Infant School launch their Lost Souls project in Leigh Cemetery

Pupils bid to trace 'lost souls' in Great War history project

CHILDREN from West Leigh Infant School are turning detective to trace family members affected by the First World War.

They have joined the Lost Souls project, with a grant of almost £10,000 from the Heritage Lottery Fund, to find relatives who may have stories to make history come to life, with help from volunteers from the Leigh Society and the Essex Society for Family History.

Project manager Beth Hooper said: "Thanks to this funding we're about to go on a great detective hunt to find those lost souls who have stories to make history come alive for the children and families at West Leigh."

"It may not always be so easy to find them, but everyone has some relative who was in some way affected by the Great War and yet many people don't know."

Robyn Llewellyn, of Heritage Lottery Fund East of England, said: "The impact of the First World War was far reaching, touching and shaping every corner of the UK and beyond."

"We are delighted to enable more communities like those involved in the Lost Souls project to explore the continuing legacy of this conflict and help local young people in particular to broaden their understanding of how it has shaped our modern world."

Art stoppers

HOCKLEY's third Art Trail kicked off this week – its biggest ever.

Thirty artists are displaying their work in 28 venues – including the library, estate agents, florists and hair salons.

"This year we are part of the Essex Summer of Art," said parish councillor Tim Gleadall.

"We have a wide range of art on show, including pottery, photographs, ceramics, clay sculpture and silver jewellery. We'll also have artists working in three venues, so people can watch them and ask questions," he added.

Tricia Poxon will be making silver jewellery in Castle Opticians, painter Dave Gilmour's brushstrokes can be witnessed in the library and Thomas Finlay will wow his visitors with computer art in electronics / amateur radio store Waters and Stanton.

"We are very proud of the talent we have in area – it makes for a fascinating trail," said Cllr Gleadall.

The trail opened last Saturday July 2 and closes on Saturday July 9.

Graffiti kids set loose on street art project

A GARDENING charity is offering local kids a chance to indulge in a spot of legal graffiti.

Designed to cut vandalism in the area via fun activities, the Growing Together 'off-the-wall' project in Shoebury is led by artist John Bulley.

"We've had quite a bit of vandalism, but knew also that there wasn't much for young people to do in the area," said the charity's and straight up – they are all really keen."

The children meet John every Monday from 4pm till 5.30pm, and any 10-15-year-old is welcome to contribute.

Growing Together also runs therapeutic gardens in Westcliff, Shoeburyness and – from next month – Thundersley, where visitors are offered peace and quiet, but can the chance to buy some local produce.

The charity also offers members access to specialist mental health support.

SPRAY AND GO Shoebury kids express themselves, supervised by artist John Bulley (inset)

CEO Matt King. "And let's be honest – kids all love a chance to graffiti."

They youngsters have to use key words

'Growing Together Shoeburyness' in their graffiti.

Although the project is already half done, it is still open for others to join. John said: "I get far more back from the job than I give, I know that sounds quite cheesy but it's true."

"The kids are lovely

Festival under big top wows fans

A SERIES of concerts were held in Southend's Priory Park.

The SOS Festival saw three concerts staged over three nights.

Peter Andre headlined on Friday, followed by a soul special on Saturday, featuring Heatwave, Odyssey and The Real Thing.

On Sunday evening the British Philharmonic Orchestra closed the festival.

Organisers staged the concert inside a tent for the first time following one of the wettest Junes on record.

"More than 5,000 music-lovers packed into the tent to enjoy three days of incredible live music," said event producer Pete Tobit.

"I'm sure there were eyebrows raised when we announced the action would be taking place beneath a big top tent, as it was a total departure from anything else that has ever happened before in Priory Park."

Mr Tobit added that the heavy rain on Friday and Saturday vindicated the decision.

Freeze food, don't bin it!

RESIDENTS are being urged to put safe food in the freezer not in the bin and help cut the seven million tonnes wasted every year in the UK.

Southend Council is backing a national campaign by the Food Standards Agency to make better use of freezers during Food Safety Week (July 4-10) and is encouraging people to get involved on social media.

Too many people throw away food which could be frozen up to its use-by date when it is safe to freeze it.

Mark Flewitt, executive councillor for public protection services, said: "Putting perfectly safe food in the freezer rather than the bin is good for the environment, good for your conscience and good for your pocket. That's why we're proud to be supporting this year's campaign and encourage residents to get involved by following posts on our @SouthendBC Twitter account with the hashtag #EatItCookItFreezeIt during the week.

"The freezer is like a pause button and you can safely freeze most foods right up to the use-by date. You can even cook defrosted meat into a new meal and freeze it to eat on another day.

"With so much food being thrown away in the UK each year, we want Southend residents to think about how they can use their freezers to their full potential, rather than putting food in your food waste caddy."

For more information on freezing food safely, visit www.food.gov.uk/useby or follow @foodgov on Twitter for tips and advice throughout Food Safety Week. For more on freezing food safely, visit www.food.gov.uk/useby.

Convert your attic for anything with Loftman

CONVERTING your loft for storage is one of the easiest conversions you can do – and one of the cheapest.

Loft conversions are great storage solutions for all of your unwanted and even wanted goods, or a great place to keep items out of sight for a few months or even years.

If you are planning a family, you may need the extra storage room to put your baby clothes in, or you may want to put some of your current possessions into the loft to clear some space.

Using loft space as storage is also a popular option if you have a commercial business downstairs and need more room to store work belongings, giving your business the space to expand without the need to move.

Loftman's luxury

storage rooms can include the strengthening of the loft joists, flooring, lighting, access, roof insulation, stud walls, windows and ready to skim plasterboard throughout.

It can also install access doors into the eaves – offering valuable storage space on both sides of the room.

Depending on what you want to store in your loft will determine how much work needs to be done to create the extra loft space.

Luxury storage rooms are surprisingly affordable at just a fraction of the cost of a standard loft conversion.

For example, a loft conversion on an average sized two bedroom terrace house costs just £3,999, including supply and fitting.

To book a free, no-obligation survey, call now on 07973 672227.

Lies secured Brexit poll victory

I'M glad to see that Keith Little (Letters, July 1) is so happy about the result of the referendum on our EU membership.

Perhaps he could use that enthusiasm to convince Case New Holland not to relocate from Basildon to the continent to keep access to the EU's single market, and then move onto JP Morgan, HSBC, and Citibank, who employ many Essex residents.

He could reverse the drop in the pound against the euro and the dollar which is pushing up the cost of imports and fuel.

He talks of a return to democracy but we have a hereditary monarch as head of state, 825 appointed members of the House of Lords and, by October, a Prime Minister chosen by only 120,000 members of the Conservative Party.

We can only dream of having the level of democracy enjoyed in the EU.

Only the UK and Botswana have hereditary members, and only the UK and Iran religious leaders in their parliaments.

As for the best person to lead this country through the tough times ahead, he might like to reconsider his preferences for Nigel Farage or Boris Johnson.

As the promises of lower migration, more money for the NHS and a stronger economy unravel faster than a toilet roll wrapped around a puppy, he should ask whether he can continue to trust men that so blatantly lied to him to secure his vote.

We can only hope that the new PM has the sense never to trigger Article 50.

Philip Martin Hockley

Vote divisive rather than decisive

IF you were a member of a club, 16 of whom voted to stay 17 to leave; while 10 didn't even bother to vote, would you seriously consider that a decisive decision?

People obviously can't tell the difference between decisive and divisive, in the same way they say Britain has voted to leave. No it hasn't. The Welsh and English have voted to leave (by a small majority).

The Scots and Northern Irish voted to stay. We will all come to learn this difference.

The Leave campaign wasn't fuelled by racism? Hah!

When people sneeringly talk of immigrants and migrants, we should all know immigrant is code for coloured, and migrant means white Eastern European. How long before Keep the Foreigner Out becomes Kick Them Out – including the ones actually born here?

We've just set a precedent to fascists everywhere, as well as shaking the jigsaw foundations of our own "little kingdom".

Paul Divine Westcliff

No doubt on damage or dishonesty

I AM appalled by my MP Rebecca Harris's public expression of pleasure with the result of the EU referendum.

There can be neither doubt of the dishonesty of those leading the Brexit campaign nor the damage that our country and its people will suffer.

There is talk of a second referendum but there should be no need of this.

The result is void by reason of deceit and misrepresentation.

Parliament must still vote on a bill to leave the EU so perhaps my MP will withdraw her support for leaving.

Les Harrington Benfleet

Exit decision only leaves uncertainty

WITH all that has happened regarding Leave or Remain in the EU referendum and the uncertainty it's left in its wake, Tory and Labour Leadership, I am reminded of the "stanzas" by poet Lord Byron.

*To do good to mankind
Is the chivalrous plan
And is nobly required
Then battle for Freedom
Wherever you can
And if not shot or hanged
You'll get knighted.*

Joanie West Shoeburyness

Pathetic fear tactics lost referendum

DAVID Cameron's bleating in Europe last week that immigration was the issue which determined the outcome of the referendum may be correct, but what did his abject campaign do to address that issue?

The ridiculous fear tactics ranging from the possibilities of the third world war to the complete collapse of the economy was pathetic.

We all had to base our vote on emotional concerns or gut feeling, not the right way for such a serious matter.

This move was all about helping the Tories to win the last election and as such put the party before the country, and as its leader he should take the responsibility and depart the scene immediately.

Fight to save health centre from closure

TUESDAY, St Andrew's Church. A gathering of more than 30 patients from Westborough Health Centre.

Three Labour councillors also attended (Messrs Jones, Ware-Lane and Willis), two because they are also patients registered at this surgery.

There is a sense that there is an agenda to close WHC down, that all one-doctor surgeries are being squeezed out in favour of the new large health centres.

This, it seems, is the agenda at large when the NHS is in the hands of Conservatives.

This has been my surgery for more years than I care to count, since I was a child in fact.

But my desire to keep it open has nothing to do with dewy-eyed nostalgia, and everything to do with the fact that Dr Bhattacharjee is a good doctor, and a popular doctor.

He has always provided a first class service for me. This surgery has been damned by the Care Quality Commission. This is at odds with my experience.

I have recently had good cause to celebrate the excellent care given here, and my diagnosis to cure period of under two months for a very serious condition is testament to the diligence and care given me.

I may well have suffered considerably had I been registered elsewhere.

My new lease of life is not entirely due to Dr Bhattacharjee, but he can claim significant credit.

I hope he has many years of practise in front of him, and I hope that this is delivered at the Westborough Health Centre.

Cllr Julian Ware-Lane Labour, Milton

Ned's love affair is the wheel deal

By Liz Wade

features@yellowad.co.uk

NEW show, Bikeology, will roll down the time-trial start ramp in October to tour the country and give audiences an insight into the frontline of cycling.

Hosted by Ned Boulting, the face of ITV's Tour de France coverage since 2003, the show at Chelmsford's Civic Theatre, will be packed with honest humour, embroidered with more than a decade's worth of personal accounts from the frontline of cycling.

Bikeology is an unmissable evening for cyclists and cyclists' long-suffering partners, with something for riders at all levels.

It will rip the inner tube off the rim of the Great British Cycling Boom, examine it for punctures, and put it back on, pumped up and ready to deflate all over again.

Bikeology takes us on a journey into the confused and lonely soul of our love affair with the humble bicycle – from the eccentric rural German origins of the pushbike to the highest mountains of Le Tour. Bikeology will pose fundamental questions, such as: What is Chamois Cream?, Has Chris Froome ever been to Britain? and If cycling is the new golf, what does that mean for its female membership?

In his remarkable 13 summers of donning the yellow jersey for ITV's Tour de France coverage (with another for 2016, alongside his reporting at the year's other most prestigious road races), sports journalist, television presenter and best-selling author, Boulting, has witnessed the popularity and profile of cycling ascend dramatically into the nation's consciousness.

Following a decade of Olympic track and Grand Tour road cycling triumphs for British riders, Bikeology harnesses the national interest in these now-household names, and celebrates the rise in the British public's participation at all levels of cycling, with an almost unhealthy (but amusing) obsession with frames, saddles and all things bike.

Boulting said he enjoys being a commentator because it lets him bring across the comedy of an event that tries to take itself seriously, but is always on the brink of chaos.

He said: "The dramas, and they are daily, speak for themselves. But it is an astonishingly fast moving narrative, so complex, so detailed, so inviting. I enjoy reacting to the live events, and finding, on those rare occasions, the correct words to describe them."

Delivered in a refreshingly unique way, Bikeology sees Boulting offer his exclusive, sometimes irreverent, insight into the world of professional cycling.

Whether exhibiting its history and the bicycle itself, or divulging the inside backstories of today's biggest high-fliers, such as Mark Cavendish, Sir Bradley Wiggins, Froome and (yes, it is impossible to ignore him) Lance Armstrong, Bikeology gives an authentic appraisal of the sport's climbs and well-documented, rocky descents.

than we talk to our parents? Is Rapha cool? Boulting answers these questions and more.

He said: "Throughout the years that I've been reporting on cycling, I've seen how the humble bicycle puts human behaviour under a microscope. 'I've seen delight, despair and doping, as well as infinite variations of falling off your bike – something for everyone."

"The wonderful thing about cycling is the direct link between a Tour de France win and a trip to the shops – it's an everyday glory.

"As kids we all learn to ride a bike. But in recent years more and more people are getting involved for social, health or environmental reasons.

"I'm excited to be bringing this unique one-man show to life as a manifestation of my biggest and re-discovered passion.

"This show is for anyone who re-connects with that feeling of freedom they had when they first felt the pedals turn beneath their feet, and the world slip by.

"I did ride, as a kid, like we all did. I rode to school – the same one dad taught at (he drove).

"But when I turned 18, I kind of stopped cycling. I picked it up again in my mid-thirties.

"After a period of twenty years during which I neither owned, nor rode a bike, I was reacquainted with cycling when I was introduced to the Tour de France.

"Knowing nothing about cycling, I was sent by ITV to Paris to cover the race. And I was hooked from the start.

"It wasn't long before I was consuming huge amounts of cycling, and now here I am."

Ned is the author of three books, How I Won the Yellow Jumper: Dispatches from the Tour de France, On the Road Bike: The Search for a Nation's Cycling Soul and 101 Damnations: Dispatches from the 101st Tour de France.

His latest, Boulting's Velosaurus: A Linguistic Tour De France is published on October 6.

THE LEGEND OF TARZAN (12A, 110 mins)

IT'S been almost 100 years since Edgar Rice Burroughs's muscular protector of the jungle swung into action on the big screen in the swaggering form of silent movie actor Elmo Lincoln.

Olympic swimmer Johnny Weissmuller popularised the iconic role in the 1930s and 1940s before more recent incarnations including Greystoke: The Legend Of Tarzan with Christopher Lambert and Disney's animated rendering.

Written by Adam Cozad and Craig Brewer, The Legend Of Tarzan is an entertaining and rumbustious romp that focuses on the love story between the orphaned hero and his plucky sweetheart against a backdrop of late 19th century treachery.

Director David Yates, who worked his magic at the helm of the final four films in the Harry Potter saga, orchestrates vine-swinging action sequences with aplomb, festooned with a menagerie of computer-generated animals that look incredibly realistic in close-up.

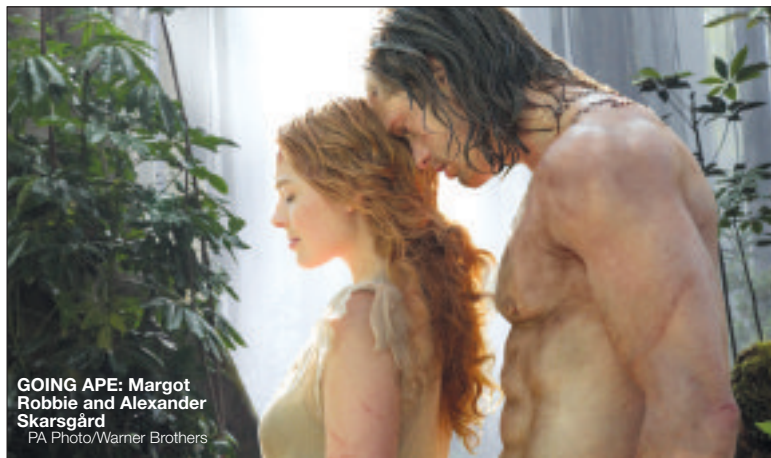

Digital might beats its chest in every lush frame including a bone-crunching fight between Tarzan and one of his ape brethren and a terrifying stampede.

However, Yates is careful to stoke the smouldering on-screen embers between an impressively bare-chested Alexander Skarsgård and the luminous Margot Robbie so we root for the lovers when the odds are stacked heavily against them.

It has been many years since Tarzan (Skarsgård) left behind the jungles of Africa to settle into gentrified life as John Clayton III, Lord Greystoke, with his beloved wife, Jane (Robbie).

The lush paradise of the Congo is a sweet, distant memory until the British Prime Minister (Jim Broadbent) passes on an invitation from King Leopold II of Belgium to visit the Congo as a trade emissary of Parliament.

John initially refuses, but gun-slinging

Jungle love

American envoy George Washington Williams (Samuel L Jackson) persuades the Greystoke heir to go in order to investigate rumours that Leopold has enslaved local tribes to build his railroad.

John, Jane and George depart for the Congo, unaware that they are pawns in a deadly game masterminded by Machiavellian Belgian envoy, Captain Leon Rom (Christoph Waltz), who has agreed to deliver Tarzan to Chief Mbonga (Djimon Hounsou) in exchange for the legendary diamonds of Opar.

A stand-off ensues and Jane is captured as tantalising bait.

"He's Tarzan, you're Jane. He'll come for you," smirks Rom.

Faced with the prospect of losing his soulmate, John gathers together his animal friends and unleashes the primal warrior of the past.

Shot at Warner Bros. Studios near Watford and on location around the UK, The Legend Of Tarzan captures the bare necessities of Burroughs's source text with gusto.

Skarsgård and Robbie are an attractive pairing, the latter imbuing her heroine with steeliness and resolve.

Two-time Oscar-winner Waltz has portrayed too many sadistic schemers in recent years for his turn as the pantomime villain here to send shivers down the spine.

Denizens of the jungle snarl with more ferocity.

Stay snug with music festival survival gear

WE all know you can't rely on the British Summer to have a good time – but what happens when you have to be outside in the elements?

If you're planning on going to a festival, preparation is key to making sure your fun isn't spoilt if the weather goes Pete Tong.

A good pair of socks is a must, especially as you'll be doing lots of walking in wellies that might rub.

Heat Holders Wellington Boot Socks come in funky colours, and have a fluffy top that helps to keep out chills and mud. They are 2.34 Tog rated, so you're guaranteed to have toasty toes, even if the sun doesn't come out.

Heat Holders Wellington Boot Socks

Heat Holders Leggings are much better than awkward jeans, with the added benefit of a super soft fur-like lining that feels lovely on the skin, and are size specific for the perfect fit.

And there's no better way to end a day of dancing than to wrap yourself up in a Heat Holders Snuggle Up Blanket, ideal if you want to try and get a little shut-eye during your trip. They are also machine washable so you don't need to worry about getting them dirty.

No matter whether you're off to relax and enjoy your favourite bands or get hard and heavy in the moshpit, Heat Holders has you covered, whatever the weather.

Heat Holders Snuggle Up Blanket

We have three packages of the following:

- 1 x Heat Holders Blanket 2 x Wellington Boot Socks 2 x Leggings 1 x Ladies Snug over Jumper 1 x Mens Snug over Jumper.

For a chance to win one of these sets answer the following question:

LIFESTYLE

FOOD&DRINK

Traditional with a hint of more

A TRADITIONAL pub and restaurant has it all, from the very best in English cuisine with a hint of Mediterranean and Asian influences to a fine selection of ales, lagers and wine.

The Bell & Chimes Restaurant, on Rettendon Common, has a warm, relaxed atmosphere making it the ideal venue for fine dining or a quality pub meal.

Throughout the year you can enjoy a drink and a bite to eat in The Bell's bar – open all day, every day – or a delicious meal in its 50-seater Chimes Restaurant, which is open every evening and for Sunday lunch.

Its Mid-Week Menu, offers a choice of a main course only for £9.95, two courses for £11.95 or three courses for £13.95, and is packed with choices, from whitebait and Italian pasta to smoked mackerel and soup of the day to start, followed by a range of main dishes such as homemade pie of the day, homecooked ham with eggs, pan-fried liver and bacon, baked seafood and homemade lasagne. If you have room for more then there is a range of delicious sweets.

An a la carte menu is served in the restaurant on Saturday evenings with an extensive choice including homemade chicken liver pate, Scottish smoked salmon, toasted bruschetta, and breaded whitebait for starters, and pork belly, lamb shank and hunters chicken – chargrilled chicken breast smothered with barbecue sauce and bacon and topped with cheddar cheese – as well as grill, burger and fish dishes for mains. All of this is complimented by a range of side orders and desserts including sweets. More choice is available on Sunday as staff serve a snack menu in the bar area and a comprehensive blackboard which includes a choice of four roasts, the famous homemade pie of the day and fresh fish, and other dishes. The Sunday Lunch Menu costs £9.95 for a main meal, £11.75 for two courses and £13.25 for three courses. There is also a comprehensive Bar Menu offering a range of favourites from prawn cocktail, potato wedges and rack of ribs, to burger meals, scampi and ploughman's.

The Chimes Restaurant can be hired for private functions, to enjoy a sit down meal for up to 50 people, or a buffet celebration for up to 100. In the summer you can enjoy al fresco dining at the front of the premises and every Thursday evening from 9pm there is a Quiz Night in the bar area.

With so much to offer, including free wi-fi, it is clear why so many people make The Bell & Chimes their first choice, whether they are looking for a quick lunch, a bite to eat after work, the perfect location for a social gathering or celebration, or the venue for a business lunch.

To make a reservation call The Bell & Chimes Restaurant on 01245 400616 or visit bellandchimesrettendon.co.uk.

Luxury boat builder decks out Fiat 500

By Chris Russon

NAUTICAL nous is coming aboard the Fiat 500 as the car maker teams up with another Italian style icon in the shape of luxury boat builder Riva.

The car company is launching a Fiat 500 Riva which is fitted out in similar fashion to the famous speedboats which have graced riviera around the world for more than 60 years.

The limited edition 500 Riva comes with a special Sera Blue paint job similar to that used on Riva's current Aquariva Super speedboat which can sell for as much as £500,000.

There are special touches inside the car as well with the dash trimmed in a finish akin to that of the fine veneer of the Riva boats and an aquamarine display on the instrument panel.

The convertible Fiat 500 Riva also gets a new blue soft top while the hatchback has a panoramic glass roof as standard.

In addition to the exclusive colour, the mirror caps on the 500 Riva have a chrome finish, as do the handles and the bonnet trim.

Riva logos abound inside and out, while the dashboard is finished in hand-painted mahogany with a maple inlay.

That in itself required an innovative engineering process which involved the wood

being applied on to an ultralight carbon shell to ensure stability, flexibility and strength.

The maple inlays were inserted by hand, making each creation a one-off.

The door sills and gear knob are also carved from a solid piece of mahogany, while the seats are trimmed in exclusive ivory leather created by Italian high class furniture designers Poltrona Frau.

Even the floor mats have been specially created with ivory hems and contrasting Sera Blue stitching – as is the boot mat that also features a wood insert with Riva lettering.

Fiat says the 500 Riva will be available in the UK at the end of August with 1.2-litre 69hp, TwinAir 85hp and TwinAir 105hp engine options.

And while the current 500 range is priced from £11,050 the company has yet to give an indication of what the luxurious Riva special will cost.

But to add a little more exclusivity, the first 500 cars will have a numbered limited edition badge which can be personalised by the buyer.

NatWest T20 Blast South Group

Essex Eagles v Kent Spitfires
Brian Jeeves reporting from the Essex County Ground
Essex 204/3 (20 overs)
Kent 154/9 (20 overs)
Essex win by 50 runs

RAVI BOPARA hit an unbeaten 81 as Essex Eagles made it three NatWest T20 Blast South Group victories on the bounce.

The Essex innings got off to a disastrous start with Jesse Ryder back in the pavilion in the opening over, caught by wicketkeeper Sam Billings off the bowling of Kagiso Rabada without troubling the scorers.

Tom Westley and Kishen Velani quickly moved the score to 43, before the latter was run out by Sam Northeast with seemingly colliding with his fellow batsman. He made 19.

Westley followed, caught off his own delivery by James Tredwell.

Essex were finding runs hard to come by and had mustered 75/3 by the halfway point of their innings.

Skipper Ravi Bopara, ably supported by Ashar Zaidi carried the hosts into three figures, while some loose fielding from the Spitfires helped Essex towards a more comfortable position than perhaps many had earlier predicted.

Bopara reached his 50 off just 32 balls, a swashbuckling knock that included three sixes and two fours.

Meanwhile, Zaidi, keen to be more than just a support act, brought up his own 50 with a towering six, Mitch Claydon the beleaguered Kent bowler.

But Bopara was clearly in the mood, and continued to be a thorn in Kent's side.

Another mighty six off the final ball saw him finish on 81*, while Zaidi 54* helped Essex to 204/3.

Essex continued their stranglehold on the contest at the start of the Kent innings.

Joe Denly's stumps were emphatically dismantled off the second ball, giving Paul Walter his first professional wicket.

Faced with a difficult task, Tom Latham and Northeast looked to steady a rapidly sinking Kent ship.

To their credit, the pair put on 48, carrying the visitors to slightly calmer waters.

But the partnership was eventually severed when Northeast was bowled off Graham Napier's first ball of the evening for 23, handing the Essex man an unusual hat-trick having taken two wickets off the final two balls during the Eagles last T20 blast clash against Surrey at the Oval just over a week ago.

Ryder's catch put paid to Latham's brave innings as Kent seemed marooned on 64/3.

And the procession continued as Billings was brilliantly run out by Ryder for 18.

The game was clearly up for Kent. Stevens's resistance was broken when he was run out by Bopara for 12, leaving half the visitors' order already back in the pavilion with only 98 on the scoreboard.

Matthew Quinn got in on the act, taking the wickets of Blake and Rebada within three balls, while Walter continued his memorable evening, displaying safe hands off his own delivery to snare Fabian Cowdrey, then adding Tredwell to his collection, Quinn this time taking the catch.

Walter finished with impressive figures of 3/26 from his four overs.

Kent closed on 154/9, some way shy of their hosts' total, handing the Eagles victory.

This latest success moved Essex Eagles into fifth place in the South Group, a single point behind Middlesex in the final qualification spot for the quarter-finals.

After the game, Essex head coach Chris Silverwood said: "We like batting second normally, but we showed tonight that we can actually set as well.

"We established a great platform which gave Ravi the chance to come out and play as he did. He was magnificent tonight, along with Ashar.

"It was like the old Ravi. He started cautiously, as he does, but he always fancies himself to catch up and he did – and more.

"Hopefully, he will take that confidence forward and keep posting scores like that.

"Ashar has done that so many times for us now. He has been brilliant in the one-day stuff for us so far. He is a good team man and a great character as well. I don't know anyone who hits the ball quite as cleanly as he does.

"It was a good bowling performance, but it was off the back of them chasing 204, which is a great total.

"It puts pressure on the batters from ball one. Not taking away from the boys, they bowled well and it was great to see Paul Walter come in and pick up three wickets.

"We're sat fifth now with a game in hand on one of the teams above us. We're in a great position to strike."

Essex Eagles: JD Ryder, KS Velani, T Westley, RS Bopara*, RN ten Doeschate, DW Lawrence, Ashar Zaidi, JS Foster†, GR Napier, PI Walter, MR Quinn.

Kent Spitfires: TWM Latham, JL Denly, SA Northeast*, SW Billings† FK Cowdrey, AJ Blake, DI Stevens, JC Tredwell, K Rabada, ME Claydon, IAA Thomas.

Non-league round-up

Ex-Canvey man signs for Great Woking

By Brian Jeeves

RYMAN League Division One North outfit Great Woking Rovers have signed versatile former Canvey Island man Leon Gordon.

After starting his career with Sky Bet League Two club Wycombe Wanderers, Gordon went on to represent a number of clubs such as Concord Rangers and Brentwood Town, as well as a successful spell with the Gulls where he was a crowd favourite.

The 30-year-old links up with Gary Ansell's men, offering a wealth of experience in a number of positions. His signing will be seen as a statement of intent by the Rovers, who are keen to mount a serious promotion push during the coming months.

National League outfit Braintree Town have signed experienced striker Jack Midson from Eastleigh.

The 32-year-old frontman links up with the Iron, having previously accumulated Football League experience with Oxford United, AFC Wimbledon as well as short loan spells with Essex neighbours Southend United and Barnet.

Speaking to the Braintree Town official website about his latest capture, manager Jamie Day said: "Jack has a proven pedigree at this level and above. I think he got a bit frustrated last season but I know he's raring to go and will do really well for us."

And Day is pleased with the way his pre-season preparations are panning out, saying: "The lads are working hard in training, but I've still got a bit of work to finish over the next few days when I hope to add two or three more players to the squad."

National League South club Chelmsford City have been boosted by the news that six of the squad have signed new deals with the club.

Joe Welch, Daniel Blanchett, Lee Sawyer, Harry Morgan, Frank Merrifield and Shamir Mullings have all put pen to paper, joining Hugo Skepeltorn, Sheldon Sellaars, Luke Daley, Max Cornhill, Ashley Miller, Mark Haines, Anthony Church, Billy Bricknell and Adam Bailey-Dennis who have all committed to the Clarets in recent weeks.

This will come as great news to boss Rod Stringer, who is building a team City supporters hope will challenge for promotion over the coming months.

Essex Senior Leaguers Basildon United have bolstered their ranks with the signing of former Burnham Ramblers and Great Woking Rovers midfielder Joe Skeels.

Skeels is the latest of a number of new faces at Gardiners Close, including Reece Tranter from Manford Way, who finished the last campaign as the ProKit UK Essex Olympian League's leading goalscorer.

Speaking to Yellow Sport, Bees manager Aaron Bloxham said: "I'm delighted to have signed Joe. He has a old head on young shoulders and understands what is required to compete at the top end of the table. He's a top lad, with a great delivery of the ball, just what we were looking for."

Ambitious Ryman League Division One North new boys, Bowers & Pitsea, have been making waves with local youngsters as their popular Saturday morning Community Youth Football programme continues to flourish.

Twenty-seven local children attended the first session back in May, and they have since risen to around 100.

Bowers head of youth Joe Corey said: "We have two hours on a Saturday morning when the kids can come along to the Len Salmon Stadium a play football.

"The sessions are free, but the club do ask that a yearly membership to the Bowers & Pitsea FC Social Club is purchased, at the cost of £10.

"This offers the use of the clubhouse and various facilities at the Len Salmon Stadium.

Antonio signs new deal with West Ham

Football

HIGHLY rated winger Michael Antonio has put pen to paper on a new contract with West Ham United.

The 26-year-old joined the east Londoners at the start of last season for a reported £7million from Championship club Nottingham Forest.

He became a pivotal part of the Hammers' successful campaign, scoring nine goals along the way, including a dramatic winner against Tottenham Hotspur, and was on the score sheet as West Ham beat Manchester United 3-2 in the final game at the Boleyn Ground.

The new deal will see Antonio remain at the London Stadium until 2020.

Speaking to the club's official website, he said: "I am delighted to have signed a new contract.

"I am happy that the manager and the chairman have showed their belief in me to give me a new deal."
